

Optimize your Opportunities: How to Successfully Apply to Geological Society of America (GSA) Student Programs
Wednesday, 28 November 2017
11 a.m. MST

About the Webinar

Internships, research experiences, professional meetings, and field camps are important components to building a strong social network and opening doors to new possibilities in the geosciences. Don't miss out on this opportunity to grow your career. In this webinar for NABG members, you will hear from GSA staff who will present general tips for applying to these types of opportunities and share with you specific application advice for applying for GSA Field Camp Scholarships, On To the Future and Student Research Grant funding, GeoCorps America opportunities, and National Park Service Geoscientists-In-the-Parks (GIP) positions.

Presenters

Tahlia Bear, GSA Diversity and Career Officer, manages the On To the Future and GeoCareers programs. She has a B.A. in Anthropology from the University of Colorado, Boulder, and an M.A. in Education and Human Development from George Washington University.

Matt Dawson, GSA Education Programs Manager, oversees the GeoCorps America and Student Research Grants Programs, and works with the National Park Service Geoscientists-In-the-Parks Program. He has a B.S. in Geology from Caltech and an M.S. in Geology from MIT.

Jennifer Nocerino, GSA Mentor Program, Short Course, and Field Awards Officer, manages short courses, mentor programs, and field scholarship awards. She has a B.A. in Anthropology from the University of South Florida, an M.A. in Archaeology from the University of California, Santa Barbara, and a M.A. in Physical Anthropology from the University of Kansas.

Register Here

For questions email Tahlia Bear, tbear@geosociety.org